Historic, Archive Document

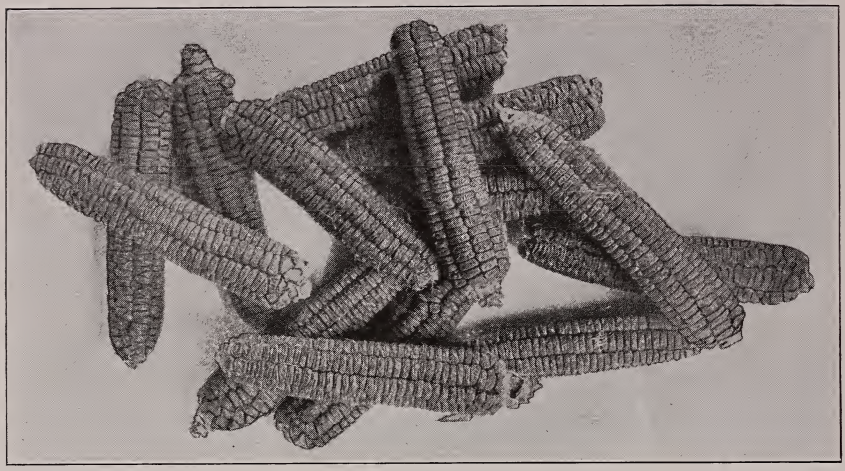
Do not assume content reflects current scientific knowledge, policies, or practices.

SHOUT
SHARE
IT

The J. C. Robinson Seed Co.

Waterloo, Nebraska
Rocky Ford, Colorado

A Book of Pictures

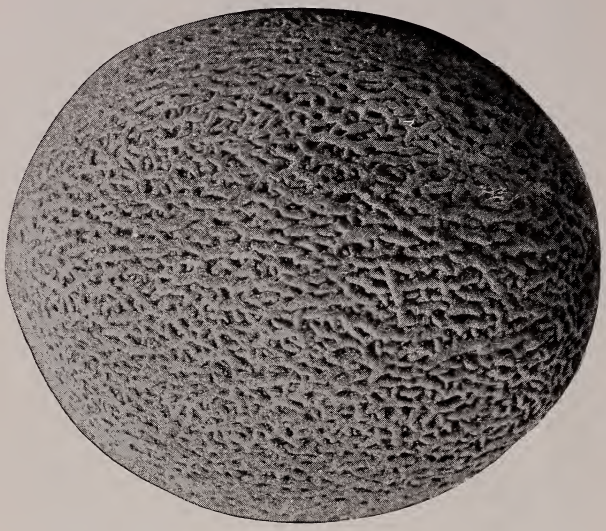


Golden Bantam Sweet Corn

This variety needs no introductory remarks to the seed trade. Its popularity has steadily increased until it now ranks as one of the three most popular sweet corns, and by far the most popular of early varieties. Our stock is the result of many years careful selection. We recommend this variety to all who desire to list corn of the highest breeding and type.

Stowell's Evergreen Sweet Corn

The standard variety among all kinds. It needs no introduction or description. Three years of rather short crops have discouraged farmers in growing all sweet corns, especially in the face of the universal high prices for all grains. Orders for supplies should not be overlooked, as our books may have to close early this season.

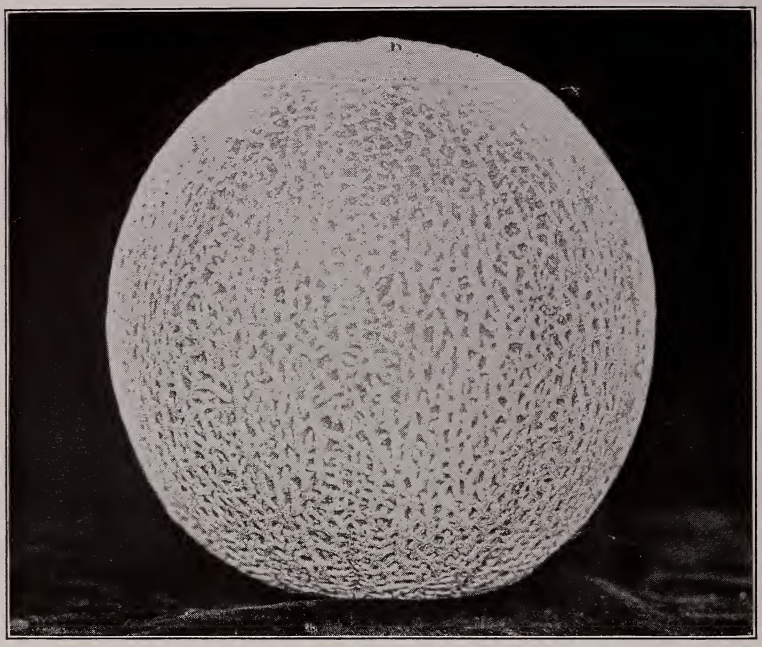


Robinson's Delicious Gold-Lined Cantaloupe

We have said so much at different times about our select stock of this splendid strain of Rocky Ford, that our friends hardly need a further introductory. It is the acme of perfection in the green-fleshed strains, and we are keeping it right up to date.

Emerald Gem Muskmelon

We recommend this variety of muskmelon for the discriminating home gardener trade, as being one of the very best. It will not stand long shipping, but is unexcelled for home use. Salmon-fleshed, early, prolific, ribs shallow but well defined, skin smooth and deep green.



Pink Meat, or Pollock No. 25

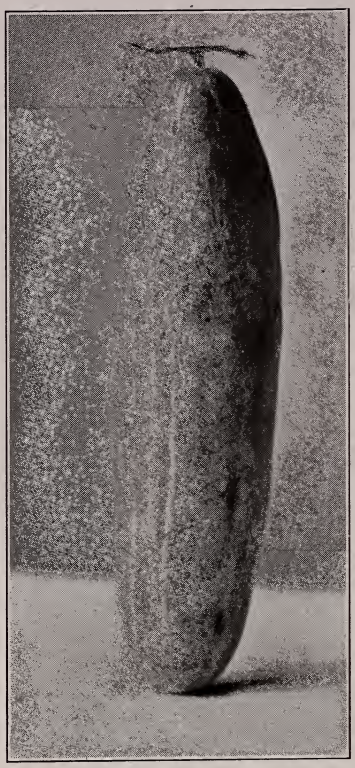
This variety was first introduced at Rocky Ford, Colo,, in 1914, and met with instant favor. It is very similar to Delicious Gold-Lined in appearance, growth and breeding, differing principally in the color of the flesh. As the name signifies, it has a distinct pink flesh, very delicate in color and flavor. Good shipper, uniform in size and shape. Being completely overcast with fine netting, it has a most attractive appearance.

Davis Perfect Cucumber

Shippers of slicers for fancy market trade have long been enthusiastic over Davis Perfect as one of the best cucumbers for their trade. Dark green, white spine, about twelve to thirteen inches in length, slender, slightly tapering, straight on under side, slight hump on upper side, shy seeders, vines vigorous and able to withstand unfavorable weather better than most other varieties.

The J. C. Robinson Seed Co. :: Waterloo, Neb. Rocky Ford, Colo.

A Pile of Selected Fruits of Green Prolific Cucumbers for Planting Stock Purposes



Extra Long or Evergreen White Spine

One of the very best white spine cucumbers, due to its length, which oftentimes will be ten to twelve inches from end to end. Vines vigorous and strong, producing a heavy crop of fruit, which are smooth, dark, shiny green until a late stage of maturity.

Henderson's Perfected

Henderson's Perfected is one of the popular and best white spine strains. The fruits are very uniform in shape and size, and retain a dark green color, making it especially attractive as a commercial and slicing cucumber. It is largely used in the South for northern shipments, and a favorite among critical market gardeners in all sections. Fruits will average nine to nine and one-half inches in length and three inches through. We have excellent stock of this strain.

Pile of Early Cluster

The harvesting of a crop of cucumber seed is an interesting process, but is work that does not appeal to all farmers. Our crops at present are mainly piled by Mexican laborers, and the seeder hauled to the individual piles and seeded right on the land; or in some cases the fruits are thrown into wagons and hauled to the seeder. The older method was to gather the fruits directly into wagons and haul to a central point, where they were seeded.

Improved Long Green

This is the standard among the yellow varieties for slicing and large pickles. More seed of this variety is used than of any three other kinds. While a shy seeder, it has the merit of being the most vigorous in growth, and being able to withstand more adversity than any other kind.

Early Yellow Summer Crookneck

Our strain of this old-fashioned Yellow Summer Crookneck is an excellent one. The variety is too well known to require a description. It has always been popular, and always will be. Of late years it has seemed impossible to produce enough to supply the demands of the trade.

THE J. C. ROBINSON SEED COMPANY
Their Reliability Satisfies Customers.

See Contract Price List for Prices.